Better Beginnings Offers More Child Development Resources in Spanish

Spanish-language resources offer families information to prepare their child for life from birth

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. – (May 29, 2018) – Better Beginnings, Arkansas’s quality rating and improvement system for the Department of Human Services’ Division of Child Care and Early Childhood Education, now offers an online library of resources titled Preparando a Mi Niño para la Vida. Separated into three stages, this collection of resources offers Arkansas families information about developmental milestones and tips to boost their child’s development.

“We have dedicated an entire section of development resources to reach Spanish-speaking families, which is a growing population of children in the state,” said Beverly Wright, Better Beginnings Program Manager. “Our goal is to provide information to families to help children experience a safe, happy and healthy childhood. These resources will make that a reality for more Arkansas families.”

Available to all Arkansas families, the Preparing my Child for Life and Preparando a Mi Niño para la Vida sections share valuable information with parents and families about the first three stages of their child’s life: infant, toddler and preschooler. With each stage of life, families experience changes in routines and schedules, and children develop new skills. Select resources also share tips to encourage parents and families at key stages and provide health tips.

All resources and information provided by Better Beginnings are free to the public. To learn more about Better Beginnings and how to boost your child’s development, visit ARBetterBeginnings.com.
